Strengthen Compliance with Beazley's Healthcare Procedures

By Rana McSpadden, FACMPE

Throughout the past year, we have shared many of the resources available through Beazley, our new cyber insurance provider. To continue that effort, we are highlighting a few of the 87 healthcare procedures available through the Beazley Breach Solutions website. These procedures can be used to strengthen existing policies and address gaps in a practice's privacy and cybersecurity procedures.

The available procedures address a range of healthcare privacy and cybersecurity needs. In addition to commonly used resources, such as a sample Business Associate Agreement and HIPAA Privacy and Security Policies and Procedures, Beazley's website offers many other helpful materials. These include a sample Website Terms of Use and a Website Privacy Policy explaining how a practice's website collects and uses personal information. There is also a sample Document Retention Policy to assist practices with formalizing their data retention and destruction procedures, while a Telecommuting Policy addresses considerations for practices with remote employees.

Each procedure includes a brief description to help practices identify the resources that meet their needs. Once a need is identified, practices should review and customize the materials based on their operations and existing policies. Your legal counsel should review any new or revised policy before implementation.

To access these resources through Beazley, visit the Cybersecurity Resource Access page through the SVMIC Vantage account portal. This page provides an access link and step-by-step instructions for creating an Admin account. The link will direct users to the Breach Solutions portal, where the account setup process is completed.
